Brief History of Euclid High Schools

In 1868, the first high school was organized in Euclid Township. Classes were held in a School Street building. There were six students in the class, with the teacher also acting as principal and superintendent.

The first high school building was built on North Street in 1894. Forty-five were enrolled in the school. The first commencement was held on May 28, 1897, with six graduates receiving diplomas. (There were six graduates ... and eleven men on the Board of Education.) That year there were 1,439 cases of tardiness reported and 87 cases of whipping, including five girls.

Central and Shore Schools were built in 1913. Of 36 who bid on the job, the lowest bidder received $85,000 for the construction of both schools. Thus was born a healthy rivalry that continued to excite people all over town for many years. The rivalry was a challenge to each school. At the time, only a few rooms were occupied by high school classes. Although classes were mixed at Shore High, the boys had to use the Bliss Road (East 222nd Street) entrance, while the girls were obliged to enter from Babbitt Road.

A whole new era of high school environment started with the building of a single Euclid high school in 1949. Euclid Senior High School opened with an enrollment of 1,850 in grades 10 through 12. A new history of Euclid public high school experience was born. Peak enrollment in the top three grades was reached between 1965-75 when almost 3,000 students were enrolled.

In 2004, the high school underwent a transformation into six small schools with the help of a grant from the KnowledgeWorks Foundation. Each school has approximately 350 students, a principal, and a counselor. There is also a counselor who specializes in Career Technical and Post Secondary education serving all schools.

Euclid high schools have contributed to local, national and international offerings in music, art, sports and in the areas of science, business, politics and education, as well as in general entries into the work force of America.

WELCOME

We welcome you to the Twentieth Annual Banquet and Induction Ceremony of the Euclid High Schools Sports Hall of Fame. The schools represented are Euclid Central, Euclid Shore, Euclid Senior and Euclid High Schools. Since 1924, these schools fielded about 1,008 varsity teams with over 15,729 men and women athletes competing.

The 2006 inductees have achieved many conference, league, district, sectional, state team, and individual championships in all sports. Individual awards went to one All-Lake Erie Team, three Plain Dealer Dream Teams, one Cleveland Press Star, one Mayor Sims Award, seven All-Greater Cleveland Conference Teams, one EGCC Most Valuable Player, one Coaches East-West All-Star Team, three All Scholastic, Two All-Ohio, two Most Valuable, two News Herald East West All Stars, two News Herald Players- of-the-Week, one GCC shot-put champion, one Sun Journal MVP, one News Herald Player-of-the-Year, one TV-8 Dream Team, three East-West All-Star Games, one GCC All-Academic Team, one class Valedictorian, one News Herald First Team, two Associated Press All-Northeast Ohio All-District, one Plain Dealer Player-of-the-Week, one Sun Journal All-Star, one Ohio-West Virginia All-State Game, one Ohio High School Athletic Academic All-Ohio, one Ohio Basketball Coaches Association Academic All-Ohio, and one GCC All-Academic Team.

As collegians they achieved the following: two graduated cum laude; two All-Mid-American Conference; four NCAA Tournaments; one All-Ohio Athletic Conference; and one All-NCAA.

On the professional level, one was in the NFL with the Cleveland Browns and other teams.

In the high amateur level of archery, one placed in the Indoor and Outdoor Nationals – Masters Division; Olympic Trials three times; Ohio Open All-Events Championships; World Masters in Australia; National Association Outdoor Championship and is a member of the Ohio FITA Archery Hall of Fame.

Many of this year's inductees are still competing in various sports.

We thank you for joining us in honoring these fine people who have given us so many exciting hours on the playing fields, floors and waters.

Thomas “Mac” McRedmond...Euclid Senior High School, ‘67

Tom McRedmond, “Mac” to his teammates and friends, learned at an early age that athletics were the proper channels for his unrelenting and natural competitiveness. This led to his ardent attachment to sports. Whether the competition was in baseball, swimming, basketball, or any pickup game at any playground, Mac had to be included. It was in organized youth baseball that he first showed the talent and spirit that helped to make him a high school star pitcher. But he also had considerable basketball skills that enabled him to gain high school recognition and honors.

By the time Mac enrolled in high school, he had already developed the skills to set achievement records in Euclid’s outstanding youth baseball program. His records included most single game and season strikeouts, most no-hitters, lowest earned run average, and the most valuable player awards. On Euclid’s vaunted baseball teams of the mid 1960’s, Mac earned two letters but suffered a shoulder injury and was unable to pitch for Hall of Fame Coach Bob Addis’ team in his senior year.

All was not lost, however, since Mac’s basketball abilities were recognized by Hall of Fame Coach Doc Daughterty who found that Tom not only could play, but he could lead. Mac was the team’s captain in both his junior and senior years, during which time he started and became his team’s top scorer and rebounder. His efforts were rewarded with post-season honors that included making the All-Lake Erie League Team and the Plain Dealer Dream Team and being named a Cleveland Press Star. He received most valuable player awards and the Mayor Kenneth Sims Award as the most outstanding athlete in basketball. He earned three letters in basketball and ranked 39th among Euclid’s top scorers.

Thomas “Mac” McRedmond (cont’d.)

Mac enrolled at Ohio University, but after one season, he accepted a basketball scholarship to Dyke College where he stayed and played for two seasons. World events intervened in this athletic career during that second season, however, and Mac’s life took a military turn. The Selective Service needed more conscripts to serve in the Vietnam War. Mac received a draft notice for the Army, but he instead chose to enlist in the Marines, with whom he served with distinction in a rifle company and as a military policeman and from whom he received an honorable discharge in 1974.

After his discharge, Mac started his career in the restaurant and hospitality industry. His success led to the founding of his development and consulting firm, McRedmond and Associates, that over the next 20 years wound up owning and operating restaurants all over the United States. During this busy period of business growth, he still found time to coach baseball and basketball teams in several states.

In 1988, Mac relocated to North Carolina with his wife Marguerite and their youngest son Justin, settling in Greensboro, where they remain today. Due to failing health Mac was compelled to retire from his restaurant business, but he has not been inactive. He is still a force in two other organizations that he founded. He is Co-Chairman and President of the National Alliance for Veterans and Dependents Assistance (NAVADA) Foundation, a nonprofit 501(c)(3) fund dedicated to providing educational scholarships, financial aid, medical treatment, counseling and other aid to active duty military personnel and their dependents. He also serves as the president and Chief Executive Officer of Thureus LLC, an international high-risk security consulting firm that specializes in threat analysis, logistical support and procurement, and security deployments in third world areas.

Mac still has fond memories of his years at Euclid Senior High School, with his participation in athletics providing the most prominent memories. He sums up his feelings regarding his years in sports at Euclid in five words: Commitment, Competition, Fellowship, Recognition, and Victory.

Inducted on October 5, 2006

Michael Lynn...Euclid Senior High School, '78

Mike Lynn won many honors during his three years as an outfielder on Euclid's outstanding baseball teams of the late 1970's. He is still in the team's record books in six major categories for his great achievements.

A letterman for three years for Hall of Fame Coach Paul Serra, Mike finished his career with a flourish, winning eight prestigious honors during his team's great run that ended with Euclid losing in the State title game and finishing Number 2 in Ohio.

His honors for 1978 included: co-captainship of his team, All-Greater Cleveland Conference First Team and Most Valuable Player, High School Coaches

East-West All Star Team Selection, Plain Dealer Dream Team and All Scholastic Team, All-Ohio First Team, and a baseball scholarship to Kent State University.

The six Euclid team categories in which Mike is still at the top or among the leaders in the record book include: most at bats (305); runner-up for most runs scored (80) and stolen bases (38); third in most hits (99); fourth in walks (59); and sixth in doubles (17).

It is important to note that these achievements are remarkable in that, except for stolen bases and walks, his efforts were exceeded in the record book only by players who were able to play for four seasons (starting in 1983), a situation that was not allowed when Mike played.

At Kent State, Mike won four letters in baseball before earning his bachelor's degree in 1982.

Currently, he is the National Director of Service for Cleveland Range, LLC. He lives in North Royalton, Ohio, with Shelly, his wife of 22 years, and his two daughters, Sarah (19) and Emily (16).

Joan Mast Roeder...Euclid High School, '85

Joan Mast was a three-year letter-winner in both varsity basketball and track. She also was the captain of both teams as a senior when she won many honors to close out a stellar high school career.

A starter at guard for Coach Mike Girimont, Joan was the team's leading scorer, averaging 15.6 points a game. Time and again in her senior season she was the catalyst for her team's success.

For example, against Willoughby South that season, she scored 22 points on nine of 18 shots from the field and four of nine from the foul line as well as grabbing 13 rebounds, handing out five assists, and picking off four steals. She also led her team that season with a 12-point effort in a win against Collinwood in Euclid's Thanksgiving tournament.

At awards time after her senior season, Joan won many honors. She was selected as the basketball team's most valuable player. She also earned a spot on the Greater Cleveland Conference's First Team, the Plain Dealer's Dream Team, and the News Herald's East-West Game All Star Team. She was also selected as a News Herald Player of the Week.

As the captain in her senior year of the field events unit on the track team, Joan won the GCC shot-put event in the Conference Meet that year.

Joan graduated from Bowling Green State University in 1990, earning a Bachelor of Science degree in Education with a Sports Management concentration. She married Bill Roeder in 1996 and spent six years in southern Indiana before moving to her present residence in Willowick, Ohio.

Joan enjoys working as a caregiver for pre-school children and senior citizens. She and her husband Bill share their home with her tiny Pomeranian dog, Abigail.

Joan is the niece of Hall of Famer Crayton Mast, making her and him the only female/male relative, niece/uncle combination in the Sports Hall of Fame.

Steve Tajgiszer...Euclid High School, '89

Steve Tajgiszer was a star linebacker on Euclid's dream teams of the late 1980's. With Hall of Famer Robert Smith breaking off long touchdown runs, an all-star like Steve was making sure that his defensive efforts got Euclid the ball back as quickly as possible.

A two-year letter-winner, Steve was a stalwart as a 6-1, 205 pound linebacker who hit opponents with authority. In his senior year, in particular, he was in on 100 tackles, 40 of them solo tackles. He intercepted two passes and returned one of them for a touchdown. He recovered three fumbles and caused opponents to fumble five times with his hits. He terrorized quarterbacks by recording three sacks and knocking down five passes.

As the co-captain of his team and the anchor of the middle of Euclid's defenses for two seasons, he played on teams that finished 14-0.

Steve's efforts did not go unnoticed. The Euclid Sun Journal elected him as its Most Valuable Player on Defense for area teams. The News Herald honored him as the Co-Defensive Player of the Year. The Sun newspapers named him as the Defensive Player of the year. The Plain Dealer picked him to its All-Scholastic First Team.

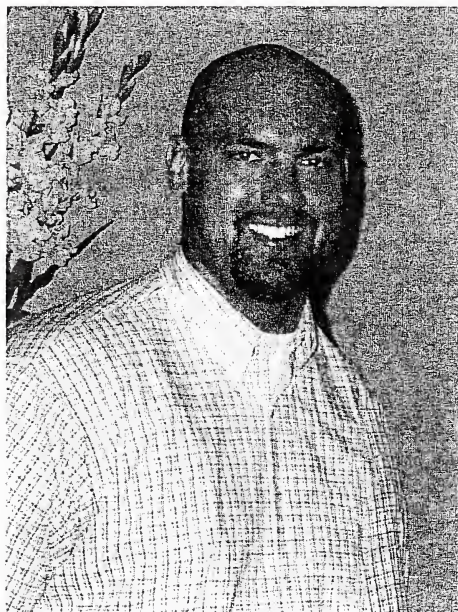

Other honors followed, including selection to the TV-8 Dream Team, the GCC First Team, the East-West All Star Game Team (of which he was selected to be the Captain), and the GCC All-Academic Team.

In addition, Steve received All-Ohio Special Mention honors and was selected to be the GCC Representative to the Cleveland Touchdown Club. He also won a scholarship to Kent State University where he played football for two years before a shoulder injury ended his football playing days. He graduated from Kent in 1993 with a Bachelor of Science degree in Physical Education that he earned with cum laude honors.

A firefighter and paramedic for the city of Solon, Ohio, Steve is also a tactical medic for the Southeast Area Law Enforcement organization as well as for its SWAT units. He is also a part-time police officer and defensive tactics instructor for the city of Wickliffe, Ohio. Steve and his wife Margie are the parents of daughters Sage (8) and Gwen (4), and they live in Mentor, Ohio.

Stephen Zahursky...Euclid High School, '94

Steve Zahursky won seven varsity letters while starring on Euclid's football, basketball, and baseball teams. An imposing figure at 6-6 and just over 225 pounds, Steve understandably was placed at positions that best utilized his size: football, tight end; basketball, center; and baseball, first base. The longer that Steve played in high school, the better he got, resulting in a football scholarship to Kent State University, a distinguished college gridiron career, and a position in the National Football League with the Cleveland Browns.

From the start, Steve started winning awards. As a sophomore Steve earned the Panther Award as the top 10th grader on Coach Tom Banc's football team. In his next two years he won varsity letters in football. In basketball he was able to letter for three years for Hall of Fame Coach Doc Daugherty, and in baseball he lettered for his last two years for Hall of Fame Coaches Paul Serra and Dennis Turkall.

For his efforts in football as a senior, Steve was named as his team's most outstanding lineman and won selection to the All-Greater Cleveland Conference Team, the News Herald All-Scholastic Team, and the post-season East-West All Star Game Team. At that all-star game, he also was named as the Most Valuable Player of that game.

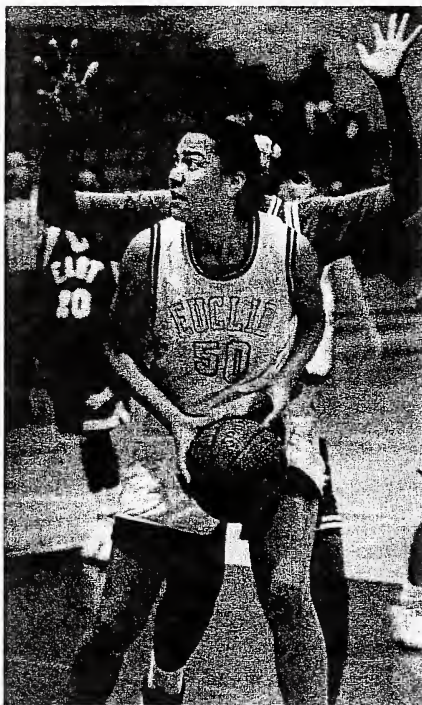

A football scholarship to Kent State followed his high school graduation. At Kent Steve really blossomed into a star, but at a different position. He was moved to offensive tackle and bulked up to 315 pounds. He was a four-year starter and letter-winner and was named team captain for both his junior and senior seasons. He made the All-Mid-American Conference First Team twice before his last season in 1997.

After graduating from Kent State, Steve gave professional football a shot in 1998 when he made the NFL's Philadelphia Eagles practice squad. The next year in 1999, he became a member of the new Cleveland Browns team when it returned to the NFL that year. He played offensive tackle for two seasons before moving on to the Jacksonville Jaguars for the 2001 season.

Steve now lives in Berea, Ohio, with his wife Michelle and their three children: daughter Jalyn, son Devyn, and newborn son Masyn. Steve is a police officer with the North Royalton Police Department.

Angela Miklavcic...Euclid High School, '96

Angela Miklavcic's high school basketball coach, Roy Pignatiello, was, and still is, one of her biggest boosters, and she never let either him or her teammates down during her distinguished career at Euclid. "I always called her the foundation that we built everything on," Coach Pignatiello told a newspaper reporter. "She's also been the road blazer who really showed a path that the other girls in the program want to follow."

Angela was a champion in nearly everything she tried in high school, including academics as well as athletics. A three-year letter winner in volleyball as a counter attack hitter for Coach

Wendy Potokar, she also lettered for four years in basketball as a six-foot tall forward and center for Coach Pignatiello and for four years in track as a shot putter and discus thrower for Coach Pete Schwenke. Not surprisingly, the 4.0 student was ranked number one in her class and was selected as the Valedictorian.

Angela's basketball abilities attracted notice in her junior year after she was named team captain, made the First Team of both the Greater Cleveland Conference and News Herald, and earned Special Mention for the Associated Press All-Northeast Ohio Lakes All-District Team. She also averaged 14.2 points per game and snagged 193 rebounds. As a senior Angela again captained her team and led them to the GCC Championship, beating along the way perennial powerhouse Eastlake North and ending the Rangerettes' 45-game winning streak. She again made the All-GCC First Team and was named the Plain Dealer and the News Herald's Player of the Week. She earned Honorable Mention for the Sun Journal's All Star Team and Third Team honors for the All-Northeast Ohio Lakes All-District Team. The News Herald also selected her as the All Star Player of the Year, as a member of the East-West All Star Game Team, and as the East-West All Star Game's Most Valuable Player. Also during her senior year Angela was chosen as a Greater Cleveland Basketball Coaches Association All Star and as a member of the Ohio team that played in the Ohio-West Virginia All Star Game.

Angela finished her career at Euclid with 720 points and 234 rebounds, averaging a "double-double" in those categories during her time as a Euclid basketball player.

Not to be overlooked were Angela's other academic achievements, including those in her senior year when she was named as a member of the Ohio High School Athletic Association's Academic All-Ohio Team and the Ohio Basketball Coaches Association Academic All-Ohio Team. For four straight years, Angela also made the GCC All-Academic Team.

She won a scholarship to Harvard University, and she graduated from there in 2000 with cum laude honors. At Harvard, Angela developed a new sports interest, rowing, and from that interest came her participation for four years on the Harvard rowing team and making the post-season National Collegiate Athletic Association's tournament three times and a fifth-place finish one year in four.

Angela is now a science teacher at the Emma Willard School in Albany, New York, where she also lives and has earned a Master's Degree from the University of Albany. At Emma Willard she is the head basketball coach and the varsity crew coach. Her basketball teams were undefeated for two years in league play and won back-to-back league titles. Her crew team won the Novice Sectional Championship in 2001 and 2006 and was the State Runner-up in 2001.

Angela seems to be in the right place for her right now. Her success as an athlete and as a coach has given truth to Coach Pignatiello's earlier words about her when she was a Lady Panther. "Before her last game," he related to a reporter, "our one freshman center came up to me before the game and said, 'Coach, I want to wear Angela's number next year,' and I think that comment summed up what she meant to our program. The kids want to really emulate what she does in practice and in games. It shows the kind of person that she is." The fortunate young ladies at Emma Willard School are learning that about Angela right now.

Randall Huffman...Lifetime Achievement in Athletics Shore High School, '47

Randall Huffman has made sports and sporting competitions a lifetime pursuit that started when he was a student back at Shore Grade and High Schools. It is a pursuit that continues to this day when he is 77 years old and has made the sport of archery the focus of his sporting attention. With this focus, Randall has pushed himself, at a late age for starting in the sport, to perform at a level of competition high enough that it has earned him spots in three Olympic trials. He attributes this late in life success to the great and kind people at Shore like Hall of Fame Coaches Ford Case and Walt Schwegler and an assistant coach Sparky DiBiasio, each of whom encouraged him, inspired him, and treated him fairly in his years at Shore.

One of those caring people at Shore was Basketball and Track Coach Ford Case, who permitted 25 boys to make the sixth grade basketball team as an encouragement for youngsters to play and improve. Because of this encouragement, Randall was able to develop his skills and eventually make the Shore varsity team as a substitute as a junior and as a senior, something he feels would not have occurred if he had been cut from that sixth grade team. In fact, Randall loved basketball so much that he continued to play well into middle age on town merchant and YMCA teams before he stopped at age 45.

Randall also ran track at Shore in the half-mile and two-mile relay events. Although he set no outstanding records, Randall's moment of glory came at the Mentor Relays when he ran the last leg of his two-mile relay team. He got the baton with the lead but lost it to Brush's runner in the last straightaway. Somehow Randall got the energy to regain the lead and pass the Brush runner to win. Hall of Fame teammate Crayton Mast was so overjoyed at Randall's effort that he put him on his shoulder and carried him around the field. That gesture by Crayton is one that Randall will never forget.

At the age of 44 Randall renewed his interest as he helped train his son who was on a high school cross country and track team. He started to compete in road races, setting as a goal running the circumference of the earth, 26,000 miles. In 1975, he competed in the World Masters in Toronto, placing 20th in the 10,000 meters against 60 other runners from around the world. In 1984, he competed in the Senior Games in Los Angeles. In Washington, DC, he earned a 15th place medal in the 15,000 meter event. After 13,000 miles, however, Randall's knees gave out, and he resigned himself to realizing the goal of running halfway around the earth.

Here is where archery enters Randall's life. In 1984, at the age of 55, he happened to watch a competition by Darrell Pace, a two-time Olympic gold medalist in archery from Hamilton, Ohio. Randall was so impressed that he bought an Olympic style recurved bow and other necessary equipment and set out to train for formal competition, with the Olympic Trials as his goal.

Amazingly, after only three and one-half years, successes came Randall's way. In 1987, he placed second at the Indoor Nationals in the Master's Division. At the 1988 Outdoor Nationals he again earned a second place silver medal. To qualify for the 1988 Olympic Trials, an archer had to score 1100 points out of a possible 1440 at four different qualifying events. After three and one-half years of active competition, Randall accomplished this feat and qualified for the Olympic Trials. He also scored high enough in later competitions to qualify for participation in the 1992 and 1996 Olympic Trials, quite an achievement for someone well into his 60's.

Other notable competitions for Randall include his winning the Ohio Open All-Events Championships in 1989, his third-place finish in the 70 and over 18-meter event at the World Masters in Melbourne, Australia, in 2002, and his winning of the National Archery Association's 70 and over National Outdoor Championship at Colorado Springs in 2005.

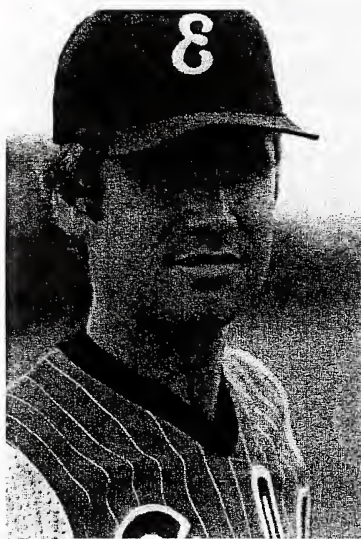

Besides competing, Randall has also contributed to the sport of archery by organizing, setting up, and hosting 21 competitions over 16 years on his farm in Marion County, including the National, District, and Ohio Championship meets. For his achievements and contributions to archery, he was voted into the Ohio FITA Archery Hall of Fame in 2004.

A resident of LaRue, Ohio, Randall has been married to his wife Betty since 1951. A graduate of Ohio State University, as is Betty, he earned Bachelor degrees in Agriculture and Education as well as a Master's degree in Education. He farmed for 30 years and taught middle school math and science for 27 years before retiring in 1991. Their three children, Lee, Mark and Vi, each had participation in sports ranging from swimming, track, skiing, and rowing. The family interest in sports of all kinds has its roots in Randall and Betty's love of training and competition. (Betty recently received retroactively her letter for basketball from Ohio State.)

In Randall's case, everything goes back to what he learned at Shore from the quality people who influenced him there. They nurtured his attitude, his competitive drive, and his desire to triumph in sports. As a tribute to the Shore legacy, he has consciously tried to be the kind of athlete that Shore could be proud of. It is obvious that Randall has become that kind of athlete, and Shore can claim him as another Hall of Fame honoree.

Jeff Hartmann...Coach

Jeff Hartmann has been described as a pitching guru, a baseball fanatic, a colorful character who wore his baseball uniform from February workouts through the end of the summer season in August for the 21 years that he coached pitchers for the Euclid Panthers. What is often left out of the descriptions about him is that his knowledge of the science of pitching is based on his own noteworthy pitching career. What is also left out is his love of teaching, whether it is baseball pitching or the social studies courses that he taught with equal passion at Euclid High School. And last but not least, those who knew Jeff Hartmann, as either a student or as a colleague, knew that when you needed his help, he was there for you.

Jeff's journey to Euclid, Ohio, began at Moorestown, New Jersey, High School where he earned seven letters in three sports: baseball (3, pitcher), basketball (3, center), and football (2, tight end). He still has unpleasant memories from those high school days of trying to tackle a young Franco Harris, who played for Mount Holly High School. Franco was a school boy in years but one who was packaged in a very big man's rugged body. Fortunately, baseball was Jeff's real sport, and he won All-Burlington County Conference honors and a First Team placement on the Conference, County, and New Jersey District teams. These honors brought him to the notice of college recruiters, and he was lured to come to pitch for Division III baseball powerhouse Marietta College in southeast Ohio, a long way from southeast New Jersey.

At Marietta Jeff had a great career, pitching for four years, earning three varsity letters and All-Ohio Athletic Conference First Team and All-NCAA Division III Second Team honors as a senior. The 6-5 southpaw hurler achieved some national attention as a junior when he and a teammate entered the National Collegiate Athletic Association's record book by pitching back-to-back no-hitters in a doubleheader during Marietta's March tour of Southern schools. Teammate Gary Latos no-hit Oglethorpe College of Atlanta, Georgia, in the first game, and Jeff duplicated the no-hitter in the second game. The dual feat was featured in two national publications, College Baseball Weekly's "Who's Who" column and College Baseball America's "Focus" column.

Jeff had a 12-1 won-loss record at Marietta, losing only once and that in his final game as a senior in the 1972 NCAA Mideast Regional against Nichols State.

He finished his career with a 2.20 earned run average.

When Jeff started at Euclid Senior High School in September, 1972, he began a 30-year teaching career that included 21 years as a pitching coach, 10 as an assistant football coach, and four as a basketball assistant coach. He started his pitching coach duties with Hall of Fame Coach Bob Addis for four years and then with Hall of Fame Coach Paul Serra for the next 17. Four times Paul and Jeff led their teams to the Final Four State Tournament, losing once in the semifinal game (1990), losing twice in the title game (1978, 1979), and finally winning one in the title game (1982). During his 21 years coaching the pitchers at Euclid, the Panthers had winning seasons.

After his dear friend Paul Serra retired from teaching and coaching, Jeff turned his efforts to the helping of aspiring pitchers at Perry High School in Perry, Ohio, where he lived with his family. His eldest son Seth was a senior at Perry at the time. For a number of years he assisted Head Coach Mike Ryan in baseball and did the same in football for Head Coach Bob Ritley, another dear friend, who unfortunately has passed on. He also started and built Perry's summer baseball program (ages 6-16) that was modeled on Euclid's successful summer program and has become a solid "farm system" for Perry baseball.

As a retiree from Euclid in June 2002, Jeff continues to help young people as a volunteer at Perry, Painesville Harvey, and Painesville Township Riverside High Schools. He still speaks and coaches at baseball clinics and camps and gives pitching instructions to youngsters of all ages. Two of his sons, Drew and Todd, are pitching coaches at Harvey and Riverside, respectively, and guess who says he will "be around to help and watch my sons and their programs"? (Seth, like his brothers, also participated in three sports at Perry High, including, of course, baseball.)

During his formal coaching career at both Euclid and Perry High Schools, Jeff experienced 32 straight years of winning seasons. The young people who came in contact with him during those years were richer for the experience. As a South Jersey native, Jeff still speaks nostalgically of the Philadelphia Phillies and Eagles. He still has fond memories of the Marietta Pioneers and their March trips to the South to escape the wintry weather of Ohio and that one exciting summer playing in the challenging Cape Cod league. He also will never forget the thrills provided by those great teams that called "The Palace" at 711 East 222nd Street their home.

Although his wife Nancy has a say in how he dresses now, whatever Jeff wears, to Euclid fans he will always be remembered as that tall, lanky, colorful, red-headed dynamo in the blue pinstripes of the Panthers. Who could ever forget him?
